Minister of Environment, Energy and Water has said that Maldivian students play a major role in the protection and preservation of the country's environment. The Minister said so during his visit to schools in Male' to observe the programmes of the schools to mark the world environment day. The Minister paid special thanks to the students and schools for the herculean work they are doing to serve the environment.

"What students are doing for the environment is a great work, a great contribution. Their work raises public awareness and result in encouraging results. Students are one of the biggest partners in the great task, love the nature care the environment more and keep the momentum going "Mr. Abdullah told students.

The Minister also said that school environment clubs continue to make a great contribution to the environment and called upon the students to carry even stronger and result oriented messages to their parents, relatives, peers and friends so that we can achieve better results in countering the many threats and challenges we are facing.

The Minister observed several programmes and activities in the schools and addressed the students in special assemblies in some schools.

Deputy Minister Abdullah Majeed, Superintendent of Schools Ms. Jameela Ali and senior officials of Environment accompanied the Minister.

Special programme to mark the environment day will be held in Raa Meedhoo. Meedhoo is making elaborate preparations for the occasion. The programme was scheduled to take place 8 – 10 June. However Environment Ministry says the programme will be held on another date which will be announced later.
